

Hashem is Everywhere

Shirel Menashe
A Digital Storybook for Children

I look at the world, so big and so wide.
I ask myself: Where does Hashem hide?

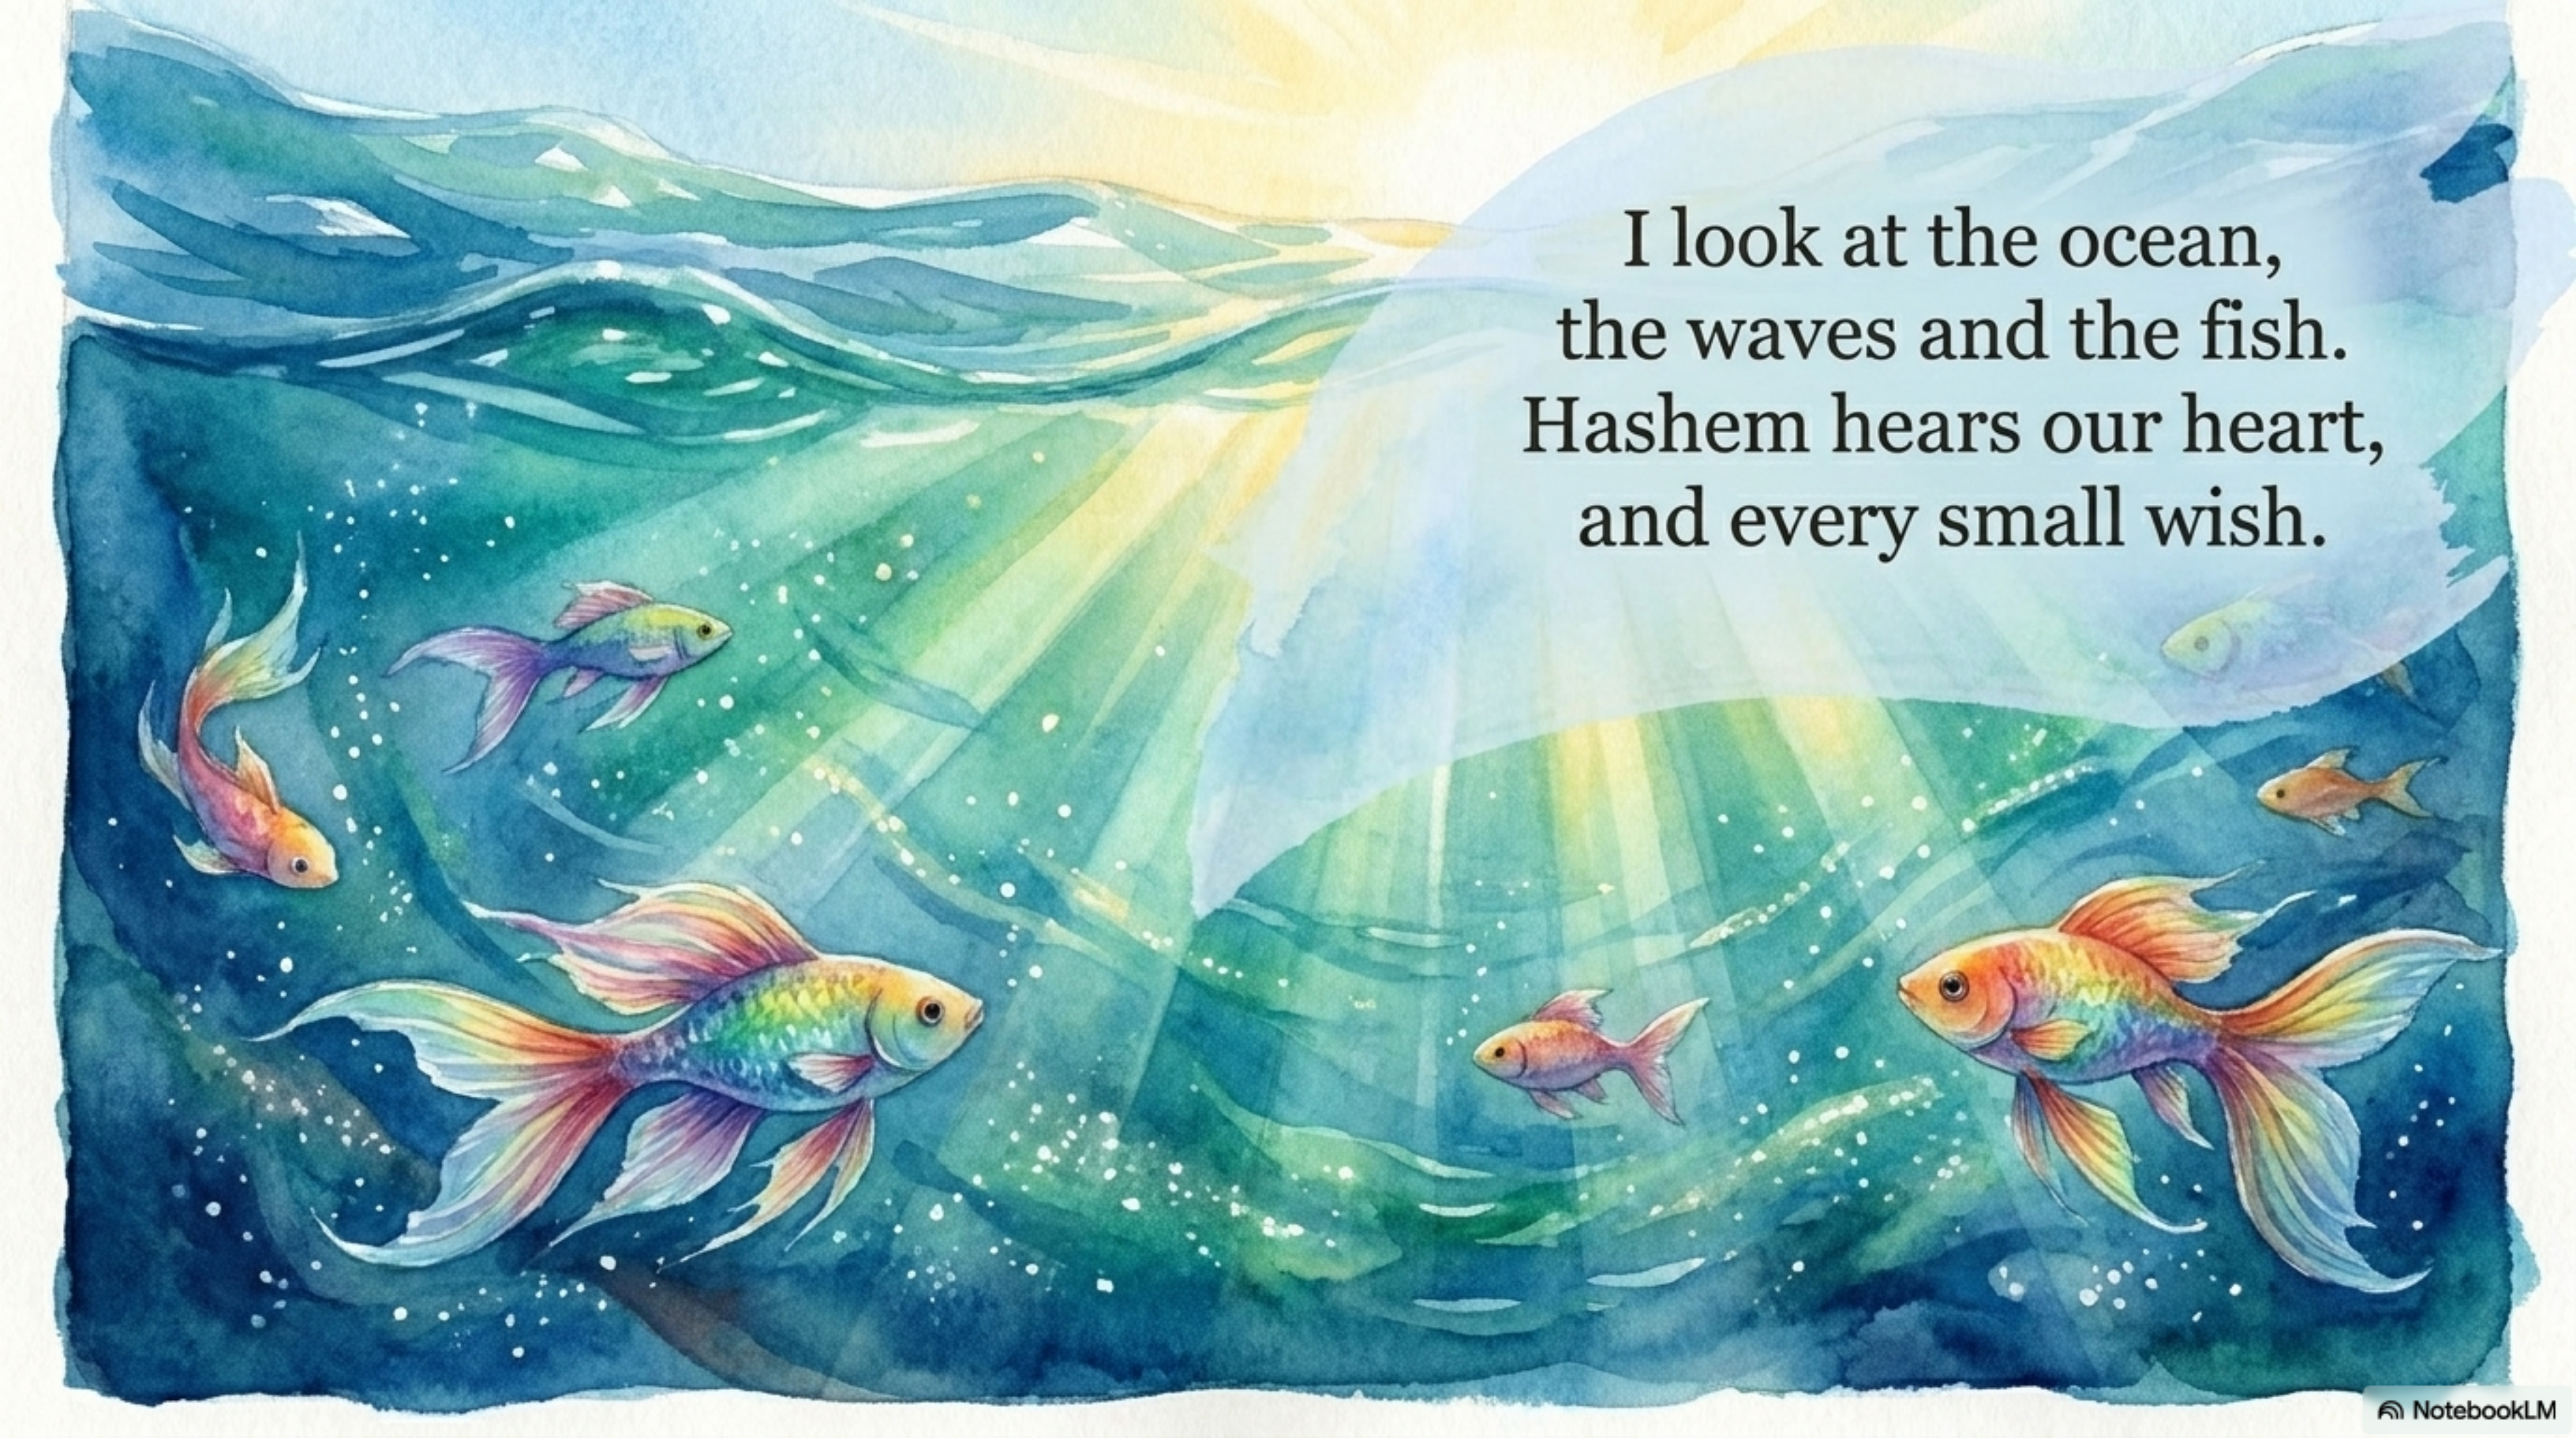

I look at the sky,
so high and so blue.
I see the bright sun,
and I know it is true.

I look at a flower,
a small tiny seed.
Hashem gives the world
everything it may need.

A watercolor illustration of an underwater scene. Sunbeams filter down from the surface, creating a warm, golden glow. Several colorful fish, including goldfish and a purple fish, are swimming. The water is depicted with various shades of blue and green, and small white bubbles are scattered throughout.

I look at the ocean,
the waves and the fish.
Hashem hears our heart,
and every small wish.

I feel a warm hug, a kiss on my head.
Hashem is with me, when I go to my bed.

I look in the mirror,
what do I see?
Hashem made a soul,
inside of me!

He is in the forest, and in every part.
But most of all, He is right in my heart.

I don't need to see Him, to know He is there.
Hashem loves His children, everywhere!
