

Let's celebrate this simcha!

By: Chana Ita Menashevav

Jewish life is full of simcha!

Hashem gives us special moments to celebrate with the people we love.

Let's open this book, and while we read,

let's thank Hashem and celebrate together!

With thanks to Hashem,
for my wonderful husband,
my adorable baby,

and my loving family,
who are always there for me.

A new baby was born! It's a boy!
He joins Am Yisrael with a Brit Milah.
Let's celebrate this simcha!

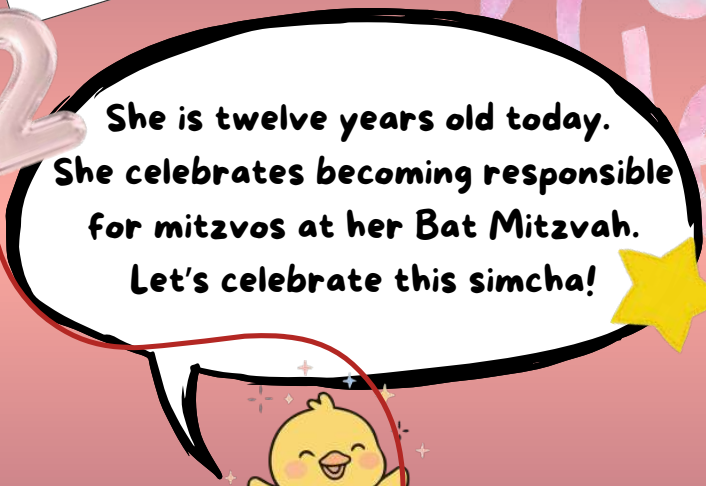

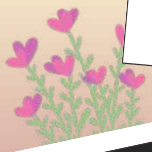

He is the firstborn baby boy.
At one month old, the family has a Pidyon HaBen with a Kohen.
Let's celebrate this simcha!

He is three years old today.
The family gathers for a chalakeh,
his first haircut.
Let's celebrate this simcha!

She is twelve years old today.
She celebrates becoming responsible for mitzvos at her Bat Mitzvah.
Let's celebrate this simcha!

13

He is thirteen years old today.
He celebrates becoming responsible for mitzvos at his Bar Mitzvah.
Let's celebrate this simcha!

They are engaged today.
Family and friends gather to celebrate the engagement.
Let's celebrate this simcha!

Today is their wedding day.
The Chasan and Kallah stand together under the chuppah.
Let's celebrate this simcha!

Today is my birthday.
Even a birthday can be a simcha
with family and friends.
Let's celebrate this simcha!

Chana Ita Menasherov lives in Beit Shemesh with her wonderful husband and baby.
She loves celebrating simchas with her family and friends.
She believes every moment can be a simcha and a chance to thank Hashem.

Copyright © Chana Ita Menasherov.
All rights reserved.
No part of this book may be reproduced, stored, or transmitted in any form without prior written permission from the author.